The discussion is about what chapel was associated with the legend, and the de Ewyas family. 4 discussed are: Mary Magdalene church in Campsall, Skelbooke chapel, Edwinstowe or Leyfields church near Grimston/Wellow, and a Mary Magdalene church in Barnsdale. Robin Hood may be Ralph d'Oed who Richard had dealings with.

JORDAN (2) FOLIOT had 2 castles: Fenwick at Barnsdale and Jordan at Wellow near Edwinstowe which became the manor house called Grimstone Hall.

By the marriage of NICHOLAS DE EWYAS to ALICE daughter of JORDAN (2) FOLIOT, the DE EWYAS (also D'EWIAS, DEUYAS) held land in the Lacy fee. From RICHARD (1) FOLIOT he also received 5 oxgangs in Riseholme, Lincolnshire. NICHOLAS and his wife had lands in Fenwick and Pukenhale, near Walden Stubbs, Yorks [Towneley MS. HH, no. 176, 1734, 1759]. This could explain why RICHARD FOLIOT sheltered WALTER DE EWYAS and ROGER GODBERD and why he escorted WALTER to see the king in October 1272. WALTER was almost certainly a relative, probably his nephew.

A land record involving Campsale in Yorks from 1342 in the Nonarum Inquisitiones names a WALTER DE EWYAS (WALTERUS DENYAS), almost certainly some later relation of the outlaw WALTER DE EWYAS of 70 years earlier.
